

Hinksford Pumping Station, Swindon

Situated alongside the Staffs and Worcester Canal, Hinksford was built in 1898. The older photographs are undated but are probably from the 1920s. A present day view corresponding to the top right photograph could not be taken due an extensive clump of conifers which have grown up on the corner of the site.